WILSON IS FIRM IS HIS POSITION

Declares for Eight-Hour Day as Supported by Whole Economic Situation.

Washington, Aug. 20.—President Wilson's week of conferences with officials of the railroads and leaders of their employees threatening a nationwide strike are believed by all parties to the controversy to have brought the situation to a point where decisive developments may be expected within a few days.

While the negotiations took no actual forward step today, the president replied indirectly to contentions of the road officials that the principle of arbitration would be endangered by his plan for putting the eight-hour basic day into effect while a commission investigates its practicality and passes upon other points at issue. In a telegram made public at the White House, the president declared he held firmly to arbitration as a principle and that his plan strengthened rather than weakened it. He also said that some means must be found to prevent the existing situation from ever arising again.

Railroad Officials Conferences. Meantime the road officials, who have tentatively refused to accept Mr. Wilson's proposal, continued conferences among themselves. The labor leaders, who already have approved the proposal, marked time awaiting a definite decision from the employers.

The president's telegram defending his plan was in reply to an appeal from George Pope, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, urging that the principle of arbitration be preserved in the strike negotiations. Mr. Pope's telegram follows:

"Hartford, Conn., Aug. 18, 1916.

"The President: The White House.—On behalf of 3700 manufacturing organizations employing three million persons, and utterly dependent upon uninterrupted railroad service for their continued operation, I beg to at once express our deep appreciation of your efforts to prevent the threatened destructive stoppage of national railroad service, and to respectfully urge that you will, with all the power of your great office and personality, assert and maintain the principle of arbitration for industrial disputes affecting national intercourse. No just demand can fear such a test; no fair demand can or should survive it. I sincerely believe no man in our history has possessed such an opportunity to fortify his essential principle or public security against future attack by employer or employee."

"GEORGE POPE, President, National Association of Manufacturers."

The president replied: "Allow me to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of August 18th and to say in reply that I understand the principle of arbitration with as clear a conviction and as firm a purpose as anyone, but that unfortunately there is no means now in existence by which arbitration can be secured. The existing means have been tried and have failed. Arbitration must never be allowed to arise again but it has arisen. Some means must be found to prevent its recurrence but no means can be found off-hand or in a hurry or in season to meet the present national emergency. What I am proposing does not weaken or discredit the principle of arbitration. It strengthens it, rather. It proposes that nothing be conceded except the eight-hour day, to which the whole economic movement of the time seems to point, and the immediate creation of an agency for determining all the arbitrable elements in this case in the light, not of predictions or forecasts, but of established and ascertained facts. This is the first stage of the direct road to the discovery of the best permanent basis for arbitration when other means from those now available are supplied."

There were no outward developments today pending arrival of the additional railroad executives, to whom the president sent invitations yesterday. Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, and several other western railroad presidents will arrive tomorrow morning and others are expected at night. Representatives of both sides are prepared to remain here until the final work is spoken and a strike declared or averted.

FRENCH RESIST TEUTON ATTACK

Heavy Fighting Again Occurs at Verdun—German Trenches on Somme Captured.

Paris, via London, Aug. 20, 11:31 p. m.—The French have carried a strongly organized wood between Guilleumont and Maurepas, taking a large quantity of war material, according to a war office statement issued tonight.

The statement follows: "North of the Somme we carried a wood strongly organized by the enemy, between Guilleumont and Maurepas. Much war material remains in our hands. Our batteries showed great activity on the whole Somme front."

"Everywhere else there were gusts of artillery fire except in the Fleury center where the enemy violently bombarded the village."

Violent fighting continued last night on the Verdun front, where the Germans made a determined effort to capture the village of Fleury from the French. The war office announced today that the Germans were repulsed with severe losses.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) the enemy displayed great activity during the night. After an intense bombardment of several hours the Germans made various attempts to capture the village of Fleury from us. All their attacks, one of which was extremely violent, were repulsed. The enemy suffered severe losses and left some prisoners in our hands."

"At about the same time the Germans attacked our trenches north of Thiaumont work. Here also our curtain of fire and our machine guns inflicted a sanguinary check."

"In Lorraine, a surprise attack by the enemy against one of our small posts near Veuve was repulsed easily."

In the east the Russians are apparently centering their efforts on their new drive toward Kovel. Berlin admits that General Brusiloff's troops have crossed the Stokhod at one point and Petrograd says that the Russians have pushed on beyond the river and captured a series of heights on the road to Kovel. Fierce fighting continues on the crest of the Carpathians where the Russians are battling within sight of the Hungarian plains. No indication has been given, however, of the strength of the forces engaged in this region and it is uncertain as yet whether General Brusiloff is making a serious effort to invade Hungary.

The offensive on the Saloniki front is slowly developing and the fight is growing in intensity on the 150-mile battle line from Lake Persia to Lake Doiran. Both sides claim minor successes, but apparently no action of first importance has occurred.

ACHES AND PAINS

Don't neglect a pain anywhere, but find out what causes it and conquer the cause. A pain in the kidney region may yet put you on your back tomorrow. Don't blame the weather for swollen feet. It may be an advanced warning of Bright's disease. A pain in the stomach may be the first symptom of appendicitis. A creak in a joint may be the forerunner of rheumatism. Chronic headaches more than likely warn you of serious stomach trouble. The best way is to keep in good condition day in and day out by regularly taking GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL Capsules. ## ANDREW CARNEGIE WEAK OLD MAN

Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 20.—Andrew Carnegie arrived here today in such feeble condition he found it difficult to walk without support.

He arrived on his yacht, "The Surf," which he boarded for a cruise two weeks ago of Noreton point, Conn. Mr. Carnegie and friends came ashore and took an auto ride around Mount Desert island. The steel magnate had great difficulty in stepping out of the launch to the float of the New York Yacht club's landing. As he walked toward the automobile he leaned heavily on the arms of his attendants.

His exertions in getting into the automobile seemed to exhaust him. He told friends he was not sick. "I don't feel tired," he said.

Mr. Carnegie's doctor, who accompanies him constantly and is always within call, declined to talk about his patient.

"The Surf" will lay at anchor here over night. Her captain said she might not sail for several days.

CHAS. E. HUGHES MADE HAPPIER

Southern California Republican Are United and Enthusiasm Is Manifested.

(By William Huster.)
Los Angeles, Aug. 20.—On this side of Tehachapi mountain lies peace. Charles E. Hughes crossed the mountain sometime during the night into southern California and arriving in Los Angeles at 9:45 a. m., found regulars and Progressives dwelling by political peace and unity.

At the expressed wish of Mr. Hughes himself made in New York some time ago, but disregarded in San Francisco, the old guard leaders here have agreed with the Progressive leaders on a fifty-fifty representation in the reception to the Republican candidate in Los Angeles. It is a mere trace, of course. The war will go on with all the bitterness characteristic of the situation in San Francisco as soon as the nominees has departed. And it is a fact which the Progressives have not lost sight of, though they are grimly enduring it, that most of the Progressives who have been recognized in the event-break plan are no longer Progressives. That is to say, they have registered as Republicans.

No Longer Embarrassed.
The chief factor of the situation, however, is that Mr. Hughes is not being embarrassed by any open break and the necessity of choosing upon which of the factions he will bestow his smiles.

For instance, when he arrived here this morning General Harrison Gray Otis, a fire-eating old guardman, and E. T. Earl, one of the Progressive leaders, leaped forward simultaneously as members of the reception committee and grasped his hand. That is to say, his hands. It was a most affecting picture—Otis hanging on the left hand and Earl to the right, and the crowd of several thousand cheered enthusiastically. If the war had been resumed at that particular minute, it is a frightful speculation as to what would have become of the standard bearer.

Through the streets leading to the Alexandria hotel the candidate was cordially received and a woody crowd has lingered about the hotel through the day waiting for a glimpse of him. There is apparently a real feeling of interest and enthusiasm here for the Republican leader, and it is fair to say that both factions are scrupulously living up to the truce.

Mr. Hughes himself, despite the fighting that has raged on all sides of him, is perfectly satisfied with the situation and can see nothing but good for the cause in the lively interest which has been stirred up by the factional row. He said today: "Ever since I have been in California I have had the most enthusiastic greetings. The meetings at San Francisco and Oakland showed the greatest enthusiasm. Nowhere on the tour have I been received with greater cordiality."

ZEPPELINS RESIST THE SHELL FIRE

Berlin, Aug. 19, via London, Aug. 20, 6:45 p. m.—(Delayed)—The principal improvement in the larger Zeppelins, in addition to their great carrying capacity, is their increased proof against anti-aircraft shell fire, according to a naval officer who commanded a super-Zeppelin in a recent attack on points in England. The officer said that measures taken by the British to protect themselves have improved recently under a more effective use of searchlights.

Objectives of air raiding craft, the officer said, were only military establishments, munitions works and camps. He admitted that at the great elevation at which the Zeppelins fly accurate aim is difficult, but said experience was showing that bombs generally reached their mark.

Of the possibility of a super-Zeppelin's crossing to the United States, the officer said such a feat was entirely feasible when atmospheric conditions were not wholly unfavorable. The officer said the Zeppelins had reached such a state of perfection that traveling in them was entirely safe.

TWO BRITISH SHIPS ARE LOST

Sunk by German Submarines While Scouting in the North Sea.

London, Aug. 20, 6:21 p. m.—Two British light cruisers, the Nottingham and Falmouth, were sunk Saturday in the North sea by German submarines while the vessels were searching for the Germans high seas fleet, according to an official announcement issued by the admiralty shortly before midnight. One German submarine was destroyed by the British, while another was rammed and possibly sunk, according to the admiralty statement which follows:

"Reports from our lookout squadrons and other units showed that there was considerable activity on the part of the enemy in the North Sea Saturday, the nineteenth."

"The German high seas fleet came out by learning from their scouts that the British force were in considerable strength, the enemy avoided an engagement and retired to port."

"In searching for the enemy we lost two cruisers by submarine attacks—H. M. S. Nottingham, Captain C. B. Miller, and H. M. S. Falmouth, Captain John Edwards."

"All the officers of the former were saved, but 38 of the crew are missing. All the officers and men of the Falmouth were saved, one leading stoker, Norman Fry, died of injuries."

"An enemy submarine was destroyed and another was rammed and possibly sunk."

"There is no truth in the German statement that a British destroyer was sunk and a British battleship damaged."

The Nottingham was a vessel of 5,400 tons and was built in Pembroke in 1913. Her complement was 350 men. She was 430 feet long and carried nine 6-inch guns, four 3-pounders and two torpedo tubes. She was designed to make about 25 knots an hour.

The Falmouth was of 5,220 tons. She was built in 1910 and carried eight 6-inch guns, four 3-pounders and two torpedo tubes. In her trial trips she made slightly over 27 knots an hour.

FOUNDER OF BANK HAS BEEN RUINED

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—Adolph Silver, founder and former head of two Chicago private banks which closed Saturday after the alleged defalcation of Max Silver, his brother, arrived here today from Callistoga, Cal., and announced his intention of returning at once to Chicago.

Silver, who is 28 years old, came to California five weeks ago, for the benefit, he said, of his health. The banking business in Chicago, he said, was the result of his own untiring work. Threatened lung trouble prevented his further active participation in the management and last May he turned the business over to his brother.

His brother, he said, agreed to pay him $400 a month as long as he lived, and gave him a note for $25,000 as a guarantee that he would carry out the agreement.

Silver said that his brother paid the $400 for four months and that the failure of the banks would leave him penniless.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Judge Hosea W. Wells tonight issued a warrant for the arrest of Max Silver, head of two private banks which failed to open Saturday. The warrant charges receiving deposits while head of an insolvent bank.

Many depositors in the Silver banks, mostly foreigners, told the police that money orders entrusted to Silver in the past six months had never reached their intended destination. Several hundred depositors gathered in front of the apartment building where Silver lived today, but were dispersed by the police.
